

Benjamin Adams

Benjamin Adams is an alumnus of Tate High School in Pensacola, Florida under the direction of Mr. Joe Hooten. Mr. Adams attended Florida State University for four years where he earned a Bachelor's Degree in Music Education while studying the oboe. In 2004, Mr. Adams was the Assistant Band Director at Landmark Middle School in Jacksonville, Florida where he taught the Concert Band and music appreciation. Mr. Adams was the Director of Bands for Twin Lakes Academy Middle School in Jacksonville from 2005-2008. He was also a member of the Florida Bandmasters Association, FMEA, and was on the Board of Directors for the Florida Federation of Colorguards Circuit for 3 years. He currently adjudicates for ISSMA in Indiana. In addition to band, Mr. Adams has taught colorguard for 8 years. His recent projects include Sandalwood HS and Bartram Trail HS in Jacksonville, Florida. Mr. Adams has taught independent groups across the United States and in Britain. He was an instructor for Paradigm Winterguard in Lake City, Florida. Mr. Adams was a member of Paradigm Winterguard for six years and has experience in show design, dance, choreography, and music editing.